

Sample Calculation

Showing complete details, units and detailed math in your report of the following:

Choose for a converging lens, a focal length, and an object location. Calculate the resulting image position and magnification and then characterize the resulting image. Then, choose for a diverging lens, a focal length, and an object location. Calculate the resulting image position and magnification and then characterize the resulting image.